

Melka Consulting

Strategy Consultant

Always dreamed of a job in consultancy but feel discouraged by the idea of starting at the bottom in a mega-corporation?

What you'll get:

- A key role in an established and dynamic company
- A front row seat to all the day-to-day action
- The opportunity to work with many companies from various industries
- Regular exposure to C-level executives in your first year of employment

What you'll be glad to skip:

- Crazy work hours and travelling that will destroy your work/life balance
- Working on projects without ever meeting clients
- Never being in touch with the practice partner in order to benefit from her knowledge

Your responsibilities:

- Carry out strategic market, competition, risk and industry analysis, all while taking into consideration the specific needs of clients
- Execute strategic planning and growth projects with companies of various industries
- Organize, coordinate, and conduct strategic sessions with clients
- Prepare all material related to workshop and strategic planning
- Contribute actively to the Melka Consulting development

Some of your top skills:

- Interpersonal and communication skills
- Curiosity and adaptability
- Strategic thinking
- Analytical and quantitative or financial rigor

Strategy Consultant

We'd like you to have:

- 2+ years of professional experience
- A bachelor's degree or master's in business
- Experience in consulting or in corporate strategy (an advantage)
- Exceptional academic record
- Excellent oral and written skills, in both English and French
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office

The perks:

- You'll work with a small team of motivated professionals and the company's founder. We are ambitious, hard working, and we like to think that we have a great sense of humor
- You'll get to interact with high profile corporate clients, all while enjoying the agility and culture of a small firm
- Flexible hybrid work model
- Competitive salary + performance bonus

If you share our vision of consulting, send us your CV via our Career page!